Book Workshop with Allen Buchanan
Ideology and Revolution (CUP 2025)
HU & FU BERLIN
21-22 May 2026

Thursday, 21 May 2026
Humboldt-Universität Berlin

Raum 2093, Hauptgebäude, Unter den Linden 6, 10117 Berlin

5-8pm: Kolloquium Sozialphilosophie of Rahel Jaeggi (HU Berlin)

Friday, 22 May 2026
Freie Universität Berlin

Raum L113, Seminarzentrum, Otto-von-Simson-Straße 26, 14195 Berlin

10am: Julian Culp (AU Paris), Welcome
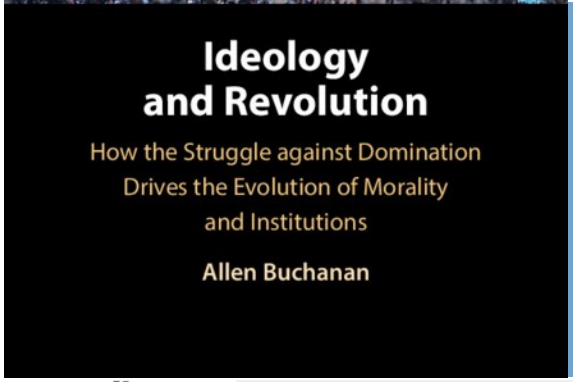
10:15am: Robin Celikates (FU Berlin), Ideology, Blockades, and Social Transformation
11:15am: Enzo Rossi (VU Amsterdam), Ideology and Power: Beyond Culture and Class Structure
12:15pm: Allen Buchanan (Duke /U Arizona), Synopsis of Ideology and Revolution
3pm: Regina Kreide (JLU Gießen), What Does It Mean Not to be Dominated by Ideology?
4:15pm: Manon Westphal (TU Munich), Oligarchic Domination and (Possible Futures of) Anti-Oligarchic Social Change
5:15pm: Stefan Gosepath (FU Berlin), What Lessons Can We Learn from Allen Buchanan's Account of Social Conflicts?



In his book, Allen Buchanan analyzes the complex connections between the struggle for liberation from domination, ideology, and changes in morality and institutions, and develops a conflict theory of social change. He examines the co-evolutionary and co-dependent nature of the struggle between hierarchs and resisters, and the appeals to morality which are routinely made by both sides.

Allen Buchanan is James B. Duke Distinguished Professor Emeritus of Philosophy at Duke University and Laureate Professor of Philosophy at the University of Arizona.

Alexander von HUMBOLDT STIFTUNG

FREIE UNIVERSITÄT BERLIN